Race Management @ MYC

The season is upon us again and what a big season we have scheduled. With flatter water than we have had for many years, one of the biggest events ever run by MYC and a great club

ARE YOU RACE READY?

Yes, the boat & crew are ready to go racing.

But have you lodged all the forms necessary to ensure a result in the race?

If not, head to the MYC website 'Sailing' > 'Race Office Forms' and download the three essential forms, Boat Registration and Race Entry Form, Safety Declaration/Equipment Checklist Form and the Declaration of Insurance Form, complete them and lodge at the Office ASAP. Forms are also available at the office

are currently at the printers.....they will be posted to all financial members in the next few weeks

Club Member Identification.

This year we are issuing all financial members with a key tag like we did last season. You will have had notification of this. This has multiple benefits.

It helps identify non financial members and visitors for Liquor Licence purposes (Remember to sign your visitors in. It's the law.)

The Rocks staff will also be asking for you to show your keytag when purchasing drinks and food over the bar to receive the members price, non members will pay normal Mornington "Back Bar Price".

Our bar policy is to keep our prices approximately 10% below street prices. The bar staff cannot assume everyone is a current member so don't be offended if they ask to see your current red keytag.

Attaching it to your MYC key is an easy way. We have MYC keyrings available to purchase from the office to keep everything together!

MYC Member Discount Scheme

Our Marketing Committee has worked hard to negotiate discount deals with a large number of traders around the Peninsula. The red keytag gets you these discounts.

Identification at other Yacht Clubs around the bay.

In the absence of the issuing of Silver cards this year by Yachting Australia, the members' keytag identifies you as a financial member of Mornington Yacht Club

DON'T FORGET THE "MEMBER GET MEMBER" PRIZE FROM MARINER BOATING HOLIDAYS IS ON AGAIN THIS SEASON. JOIN YOUR GUESTS UP AND YOU OR YOUR INTRODUCED MEMBER MAY BE THE LUCKY ONES THIS YEAR TO WIN THE TRIP TO THE TURKISH YACHT RALLY.

MYC Youth sailing report

MYC had 5 boats represented in NSW on the weekend. New youth member Hugo dropped back on day 2 but showed why he will be amongst the top runners in the nationals. Ella Sharman had her best races on day 2 and Stephanie Lee showed she was trying hard with a black flag in one race.

In the laser 4.7 Tyrone was 2nd, 3 points off first—great result. In the 420 Nick and James had a good first outing post opti. Well done to all Air Conditioner Unit in bar area.....

One of our air conditioning units in the bar area needs a new thermostat—don't suppose we have a generous member in that line of work who would be able to help us out with replacing it? - if so please contact the office on: 5975 7001 thank you

Lycian Coast of Turkey Rally 2013

Having now fallen in love with a very special portion of Marmaris we embark on our Lycian journey with our first day a cruise to Ekincik. En-route we pass a bay we are told is military and not to be entered. More about that later.....

We have a perfect sail to Ekincik in 10 to 15 knots of breeze on a reach and enter the bay to moor successfully in My Marina using the 'lazy line' system we will come to know well. The water is clear and the temperature about 24. No-one can resist that. After drying out on board and getting to know a few of the people from the other five yachts we attend the welcome dinner at My Marina Restaurant complete with the floorshow of our after dinner fruit trolley. The lights dim and the seven tiered stack of candles is wheeled into the restaurant as the music plays. The fruit, like all the fruit, salad and vegetable here is delicious. Next day is an optional excursion to Caunos, the Lycian tombs and lunch in Dalyan. Our guide and caique owner is Don. A wealth of information, as are all the guides we have ever encountered in Turkey. Don is an instant favourite. We visit the turtle feeding and learn about the efforts being made to protect the breeding beaches of the creature, the history of Caunos and the remarkable tombs as we meander through the reeds of the river delta (African Queen style) and back again -after lunch in the modern town of Dalyan.

Most of the crews then decide to leave the marina to a nearby bay for night under the stars at anchor. Perfect!

As the sun rises on the next morning it's in for another swim before breakfast and the realisation that today is RACE day! We react slowly

Our Mariners Boating Holiday information evening is being held on Tuesday the 29th of October—don't forget to mark the date in your diary and come along and find out about the beautiful Lycian Coast in Turkey and paddle off after the morning 'sched' to meet another bay for more swimming and a light lunch. As we approach the designated bay we hear what sounds like WW 111 starting. The bay we had passed on our first day spews out the navy ships to practice war games and it sounds very like the real thing. There have been warnings on VHF for the previous days so we crack a few jokes about Exorset missiles and proceed to the rendezvous spot.

The bay is once again perfect temperature, perfect colour and just too good to be true! As Trevor predicts the breeze arrives around 1.00pm so we up anchor and amble out to the start line. The race is 15 miles to Sarsala and the conditions are once again unbelievable. What a day. And Sarsala!

Sarsala is a bay with pine trees to the water's edge, a quay with lazy lines, tables line the quay and the 'business' side of the establishment is hidden in the trees which climb up the steep hillside. From here we later sample the best goat casserole on the planet after the mezes and fresh village breads and followed by luscious fruits, strong Turkish tea or coffee. Is this haven going to be able to survive another ten years? We certainly hope so.

We wake in Sarsala bay and of course it is in for the morning swim, fresh water rinse off on the back of the yacht, breakfast, fresh baked village bread and how about we go to another bay for another swim. Mesut, our guide, technical support and local language speaker suggests just such a place. Thirty minutes later we are anchoring beside a sunken 'house or something' and the swim reveals just that.

Some of our party make for the town of Gocek for an evening of 'civilization', some head for yet another bay for the night and with so much to choose from it is easy to make the right decision. No matter what you chose to do here you could not go wrong.

And this is only day four of fourteen! It surely cannot get better than this!
